

Download your Data

Secure a copy of all the content of your Team as a backup or for analysis

Document generated 12/05/2024

PDF VERSION

Tags | Data | Analytics |

ADMIN PRIVILEGES REQUIRED

Applies to: Free Basic Business Enterprise

Enterprise users can access their documentation here. Find your plan.

Stack Overflow for Teams is built to help your teams collaborate, develop and learn. With this in mind, there may be a time where you wish to download your information.

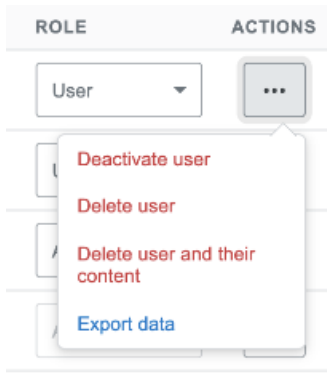

This can be done by any team admin via the Settings section within the team. While viewing the Settings, click on 'Account information' under the 'Billing' section. You'll then be presented with your account information. On this page, you'll notice a 'Download data' option off to the right side.

Upon clicking this, data will be downloaded in a ZIP file. Upon expansion of this ZIP file, you will see a series of JSON files, containing information regarding: Badges, Comments, Images, Posts, Tags, Users, and Votes.

Export data for an individual user

Team Admins can export data for an individual user by going to Admin settings -> Users and permissions. Once there, click on the Actions menu next to a User and select the Export data, to generate the export.

Need help? Submit an issue or question through our support portal.